

Computation and Informatics in Biology and Medicine Training Program Sixteenth Annual Retreat

October 6th, 2017
9:15 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.
Fluno Center
601 University Avenue

- 9:15 a.m. Continental breakfast, Fluno Center Atrium
- 10:00 Welcome remarks; Introduction to CIBM Training Program, Auditorium
- 10:15 – 11:15 Invited Speaker
Sean Mooney, PhD
Professor, Department of Biomedical Informatics and Medical Education
Chief Research Information Officer, UW Medicine
University of Washington
Biomedical Informatics and Precision Medicine Are Laying the Framework for the Next Generation of Discovery
- 11:15 – 11:30 Mid-Morning Beverages, Atrium
- 11:30 – 12:30 Poster Session I, Room 201
- 12:30 – 1:30 Lunch - Fluno Center Dining Room
- 1:30 – 2:30 Invited Speaker
Alan M. Smith, PhD
Associate Director of Bioinformatics
Stemina Biomarker Discovery, Inc.
Developing and Applying Novel Computational Methods to Understanding Metabolomic Data Sets in Autism Spectrum Disorder
- 2:30 – 3:45 Poster Session II, Room 201
Refreshments during poster session, 2nd Floor Break Area
- 3:45 – 4:45 Invited Speaker
Héctor Corrada Bravo, PhD
Associate Professor, Computer Science; Center for Bioinformatics and Computational Biology, University of Maryland, College Park
Is this Data Science? Adventures in Metagenomic Data Analysis